Epoque is a light sculpture designed to study chiaroscuro and volumes. The result is a modern expression of these Renaissance-era techniques in a stunning chandelier. Composed of curved, organic lines, Epoque's frame is made of flexible and durable brass metal, suspended by metal chains. Two bands of metal, a central elongated section, and an external band of wide arcs allow the light to envelop a room in reflections of soft light. Epoque has attracted attention from those in the design community with discerning tastes. Epoque is available in nickel, black nickel, bronze, and gold finish.
